The Journalism Class

The Journalism Class of 1951-52 put in many long hours of hard work, to provide the "Breeze," a weekly newspaper, for the entire school. Assignments, write-ups, and copy-writing all went into the make up of the paper before it was sent to The Fairmount News office for printing. Shirley Hill was the capable editor-in-chief.

Work on the Black and Gold started in October and continued until March 15, when it was sent away to be printed. Each student had a job to do and did it.

Patricia McDermitt and Larry Smith furnished the fine art work, which took much time and thought. Billie Jo Wallace, editor of the annual, spent most of her time arranging pictures, which were mostly taken in January. Ads were sold during first period with Charlie Johnson, Lawrence Kinch, and Larry Hughes assuming this major responsibility. Sue Smith and Martha Wilson were in charge of subscriptions, and soon received their quota. Martha Dunning and Vera Phillips had fun putting the snap pages together. Sports editor, Bill Wilson, along with John Templeton, Wilma Huston, Phyllis Jones, Marilyn Reeder and Shirley Hill put a lot of thought into their write-ups.

Journalism class was also in charge of the "Breeze Booth," the refreshment stand for all students. Each one took his part in working there during the noon hour. All in all, the sixteen members of the class performed many services for the school in connection with the Breeze, Black and Gold, and Breeze Booth.

The class of 1952 dedicates this annual to Paul G. Weaver, our understanding friend and hard working sponsor whose sportsmanship, counseling, tactfulness, and pleasant ways have made him an integral part of our school life.

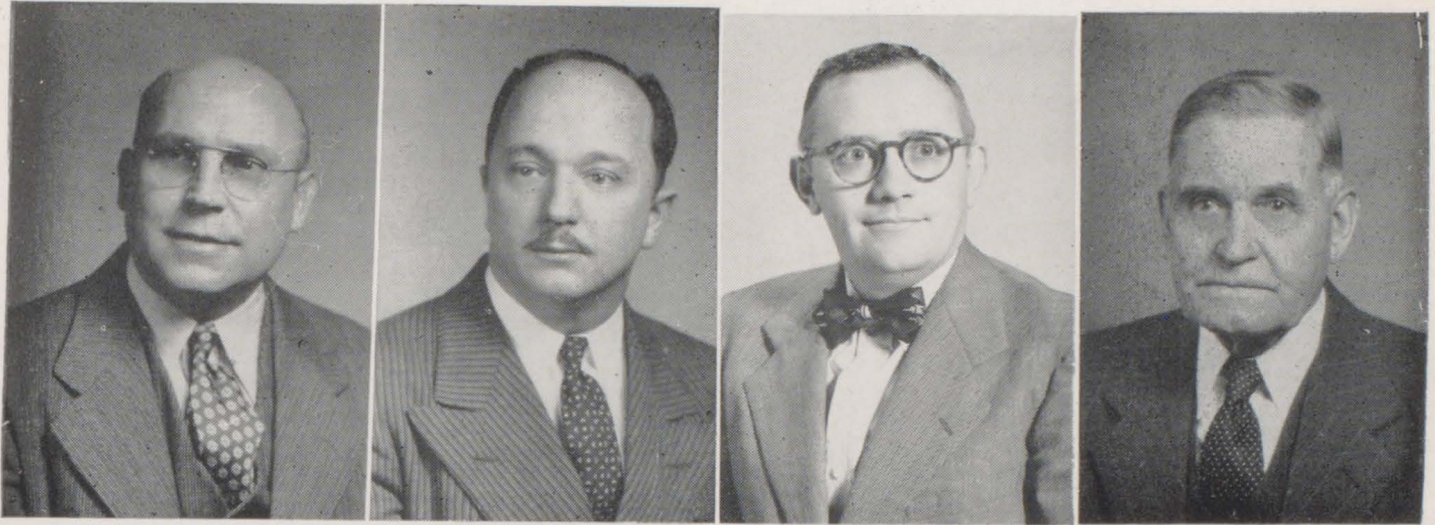

F. Stanton Galey

During the past 23 years that Superintendent Galey has guided the school activities in Fairmount, many beneficial improvements in the management and function of our schools have been realized. Practical but progressive, thoughtful but not without humor, Mr. Galey is a sports enthusiast and untiring worker for community welfare. He earned his A. B. at Purdue in 1916; has attended the state teachers colleges at Terre Haute and Muncie; and qualified for his M. A. at Indiana University in 1936.

Roland DuBois

Ably holding the position of principal of Fairmount High School is Roland DuBois. In four years he has conducted a democratic administration centered around the needs of the individual. This sincere policy has gained for him the respect of the entire school personnel. Mr. DuBois graduated from North Manchester College in 1934 and received his M. A. at Indiana University in 1940.

ROY JOHN

JOE W. PAYNE

JAMES BREWER

CHARLES NICHOLSON

Fairmount Town and Township School Board

Our school board is composed of some of the community's leading citizens who are concerned with the education of the young people of Fairmount and vicinity. The position commands prestige because it demands that the members assume responsibility and personal sacrifice.

Roy John, who has been a member for six years, is the present Town School Board president. Charles Nicholson, Fairmount Township Trustee, is president of the Joint School Board. Like Mr. John, Joe W. Payne has served six years as a member of the group and is the present treasurer. James Brewer was named to the board in January of this year to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Victor Allen Selby, Jr., who had served approximately two and a half years. Mr. Brewer is secretary of the Board.

JANITORS

So goes another year down in the books at Fairmount High for our excellent custodians, Ace Sellers and Clarence Clifford, who have done a fine job in keeping our old school building in tip-top condition. In 1930 Clarence Clifford started his work as janitor here; then 12 years later Ace Sellers joined him. From early in the morning till late at night they provide for our individual needs and comforts, nine months of every year. During summer vacation they work hard to get the building looking presentable for the next school session. Thanks go to Ace and Cliff for the splendid job they do; their work is appreciated by all the students and faculty.

BUS DRIVERS

To make it possible for the rural students to get to school for their education, transportation is provided for them. Drivers of these school buses have one of the most important of all school responsibilities. They must be physically fit, pass a stiff driving test, never shirk their duty whenever school is in session, whether the weather is good or bad, hot or cold.

Basketball games, skating parties, and various field trips constantly rely upon certain bus drivers for transportation. For their many services the school is grateful.

Senior Class History

1952 seemed a long time off when our class advanced from North and West Wards and Fowlerston to its place at F. H. S. as 66 unsuspecting little seventh graders. After adjusting to the surroundings we were allowed to have a class meeting to dispose of a lot of important class business. We elected Joyce Stitt as president; Larry Smith, vice-president; Beverly Rich, secretary; Patty Hoskins, treasurer; John Powers, historian; and Sue Hill, social chairman. The first party of the year was held in the West Ward gym under the direction of Ralph Rautenkranz and Georgia Cullen, our sponsors. Each class member had to pay twenty-five cents for his share of ham salad sandwiches and cokes. On February 13 we had our second party, a valentine exchange.

After a seemingly short vacation we came back to F. H. S. as veterans. Mr. Elliott and Miss McTurnan became our new sponsors, and we started things off with a hay ride. Sue Smith was our choice of candidate for Carnival Queen. John Powers was elected president; Joyce Stitt, vice-president; Lois Hollingsworth, secretary; Beverly Rich, treasurer; Sue Smith and Charles Johnson, social chairmen. At Christmas time we had a second party in the Homemaking room. And since we have always been clever, we had a Hobo party at Joan Gaddis' for a third social function.

With some new recruits from Liberty township 69 of us met in the fall of 1948 as freshmen. Class officers were Larry Smith, president; John Powers, vice-president; Bill Wilson, secretary and treasurer; Jeanette Ashba, historian; and John Templeton, social chairman.

Marilyn Reeder entertained our group at a wiener roast after a wonderful hayride. Under the guidance of a new coach, Mr. McAnally, we had a basketball team that enjoyed a very successful season. Joyce Stitt was chosen for our Carnival Queen candidate.

Returning as sophomores, we had dwindled to 56. We met and chose Larry Smith, president; Joyce Stitt, vice-president; Bill Imhoff, secretary-treasurer; Jeanne Brown, historian; Sue Smith and Larry Hughes, social chairmen; and Charles Johnson, watch dog. A big event was our choice of class sweaters, which we decided should be grey and blue. At the Halloween Carnival we put on an amateur program featuring the Harmonettes, Belle from Hopkin's Corner, the Pixie Four, Dew Dew Dewy Day, and Goofus Dance. Carolyn Worl was honored as our queen candidate. For our class plays we produced Elmer, a comedy; The Farmer's Daughter, a melodrama; and True in Heart, a serious play.

In the spring of our sophomore year we elected our junior class officers so we could tackle the problem of raising money for our senior trip and the junior prom. The officers were Joe Kelsay, president; Larry Smith, vice-president; Joyce Stitt, secretary; John Powers, social chairman; John Templeton, sergeant-at-arms; Jeanne Brown, treasurer; Martha Wilson, social chairman; Carolyn Worl, historian. On October 6 we chose class rings which arrived on the glorious day of December 4. Carnival money-making projects were the Spook House, Shooting Gallery, and Junior Follies. Martha Wilson and Larry Smith represented us as queen and king candidates. Our class play, "Our Miss Brooks," was given November 20-21, with Billie Jo Wallace as Connie. Billie Jo and Joe Kelsay were appointed by the faculty as the delegates to Boys' and Girls' State.

We sponsored the movie, "Mr. Belvedere Goes to College," and made additional money by having three bake sales and a work day. The prom committee decided on the theme "A Street in Paris." An exotic atmosphere was created in the gym with French shoppes and a ceiling of stars to emphasize the senior motto, "Darkness Brings out the Stars." It was beautiful.

Only 46 of us assembled to elect officers in the fall of '51 for our senior year. Larry Hughes became president; Larry Smith, vice-president; Joyce Stitt, secretary; Billie Jo Wallace, treasurer; Charles Johnson, watch dog; Sue Hill, Jeanette Ashba, Joe Kelsay, John Powers, social chairmen; Carolyn Worl, historian; and Phyllis Jones and Hilton Johnson, student council representatives.

In a meeting with our parents, penny suppers were ruled out and a banking system was established. We did make some money at the Carnival with the candle squirt, hot dog sale, spook house, and sponge toss. Although we were worried for a time, Larry Hughes and Carolyn Worl were voted in as Carnival King and Queen. A goal of $1,000 worth of magazine subscriptions was established and realized, bringing us some needed revenue and a turkey dinner. Over a hundred dollars was realized from ads in our county basketball schedule.

In February our final activities were planned. We decided to give "I Remember Mama" on April 3 and 4. When you read this, we will be ready for our Baccalaureate on May 11, after which we plan for Commencement May 12. We will leave on May 15 for our much planned trip to New York City and Washington, D. C. Our return will complete the history of the class of 1952 as students of Fairmount High School.

Senior Class Will

I, David Allred, will my ability to sleep with my eyes open in Government to Bud Thurston.

I, Jeanette Ashba, will my ability to sing and be in plays to my brother, Jack.

I, Norma Bailey, will my second period office position to anyone who thinks he can have as much fun as I did.

I, Noah Beever, will my United States Government book to Richard Gosnell in hopes that he may do better than I did.

I, Darlene Lou Ann Behr, will my seat in book-keeping to anyone who thinks he will like Richmond.

I, Charles Benninghoff, will my ability to pass Government to Richard Stinger.

I, Lowell Blair, will my chemistry book to anyone who hates chemistry as bad as I do.

I, Jean Brown, will my knack for telling jokes in class and making the teacher think I'm working to anyone who is willing to risk it.

I, Richard Curless, will my unfortunate financial standing to allow me to go through high school without purchasing a car to anybody who wants it, because, brother, it is rough.

I, Martha Dunning, will my standards at F. H. S. to Marietta Kemmer.

I, Wendell Fisher, will my ability to get into trouble the first period to Phil Compton.

I, James Fisher, will my place in band to Joe Comder and Larry Wood, hoping they don't get scoldered as much as I did.

I, Joan Gaddis, will nothing but leave and join Don.

I, Roberta Gaither, will my happy-go-lucky attitude to anyone who thinks he can get by with it.

I, Shirley Hill, will the freckle in my right eye to anyone who needs it. It seems to be a good conversational piece.

I, Sue Hill, of questionable mind, but strong body, hereby will my ability to work at the Shake Shop and not gain more than two and five-tenths pounds per week to Lola Small.

I, Larry Hughes, will my nickname "Jughead" to anyone who can fill the qualifications and then live up to them.

I, Wilma Huston, will to Janet Reasoner the best of luck in F. H. S. during her next four years and hope she finds as wonderful a guy as Bob.

I, Charles Johnson, will my seat in History for two years to Dwight Crouch.

I, Hilton Johnson, hereby will my beautiful legs (so Bill Fowler says) to Charlie Dumpert.

I, Phyllis Jones, being of sound mind at certain times, will the keys to our '36 Ford to my brother, Dick.

I, Joe Kelsay, will my driving ability to Gene Rayn, who is a promising young leadfoot.

I, Lawrence Kinch, being of sound mind, will my second million to Fairmount High School.

I, Gardenia Lou Latta, will my position as assistant librarian for four years, to Judy Kerschner and hope she has as much fun, not working, as I did.

I, Martha Leckron Harvey, will my ability to sew, to anyone who wants to get married.

I, Patricia McDermitt, will my three years in Art to Pat McCormick and my size six shoe to Lowell Kierstead.

I, Ellen Miller, will my Senior Cord skirt to Jane Crist so that she might wear it in her senior year at Fairmount in remembrance of the class of '52.

I, John Moon Jr., will my solid geometry to any plane geometry student who thinks he can pass when not trying, like I did.

I, Jean Parson, will all the fun I've had these four years of high school to my brother, who'll be a freshman next year.

I, Vera Phillips, will my writing ability to anyone, for with a little thinking anyone can accomplish it.

I, John Powers, will my taxi service to anyone who wants it, and can stand up under the pressure.

I, Donna Price, will my freckles to anyone who thinks he can stand them.

I, Marilyn Reeder, having a sound mind, will my baby picture to Janet Hoke so that she can think of a time when I was not five feet, seven inches tall.

I, Charles Reynolds, will my ability to pole vault 10 feet to Dick Grindle.

I, Carolyn Sue Smith, being of sound mind and body, and with three big tears in my eyes, will to Judy Sicks my ability to be scalped by an Indian, and I hope she can find someone half as Waa Hoo.

I, Larry Lee Smith, will my ability to get jilted by more girls and to come out a bachelor in my senior year to any underclassman who doesn't want to lead a dog's life.

I, Francis Stephens, will my favorite stomping grounds, Marion, to whoever can do better than I did.

I, John Stinger, will my ability to stay out of trouble to Harlan Haisley.

I, Joyce Stitt, will my love for farmers to any girl lucky enough to get one.

I, Mary Carolyn Sullivan, will my single and free ways to Linda Roth.

I, John Templeton, will my nickname "Tadpole" to Richard Cosby.

I, Billie Jo Wallace, will to my brothers, James and Lewis, my grand times at F. H. S. May they enjoy it as much as I have, and I will my Editorship of the Black and Gold to anyone who has a quick cure for a headache.

I, Phyllis Whiteman, will my ability to get to Band class on time to Louise Williams.

I, Bill Lee Wilson, will to "Wink" Payne my high batting average of .152.

I, Martha Wilson, will my nickname, "Mert," to anyone who likes it better than I do.

I, Carolyn Worl, have nothing to leave behind, because Dave won't give his consent.

We, the Senior class, will this page to next year's seniors and hope they can think up something more original than we did.

ACTIVITIES RECORDS

CARNIVAL QUEEN AND KING

The main event each year at carnival time is the coronation of a king and queen. Last October 30, Carolyn Worl and Larry Smith were crowned King and Queen of Fairmount High by Mr. DuBois. In selecting a king and queen each class voted for a boy and girl to represent them. Nominations cost twenty-five cents. Votes could be cast by anyone for one cent. The winners were not announced until 9 p. m. the night of the Fall Festival.

FIVE HONORED STUDENTS

Chosen for service, leadership, patriotism, and dependability, Shirley Hill represented Fairmount High in the Grant County D. A. R. contest.

For his general aptitude in all athletic endeavors, his sportsmanship on the playing floor, and for his value to the team, Charles Johnson received the 1952 Don Rhoads Trophy.

This year, for the first time, two junior girls were chosen to attend Girls' State in Bloomington next June. They are Lola Small, sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary and Judy Kesler, sponsored by the Community Bonnet Club. Marlene Earnest was alternate for both girls.

Fred Parrill was the faculty's choice of representative for Boys' State, which convenes in Indianapolis in June. The Fairmount Post of the American Legion finances this trip for an outstanding junior boy each year.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Successful in several ventures, the Student Council finished its second year with Mr. DuBois feeling that they had accomplished considerable. The all-school carnival on October 30 was the Council's first big undertaking. Soon after, through Council planning, yell leaders were chosen by a merit system with basketball boys, faculty, and Council members doing the voting. In February the members arranged for Albert Marshall to give a dramatic program in the auditorium. His performance was a memorable event of the year.

Within the realm of student government the Student Council put into effect several innovations.

Shirley Hill was president, while Hilton Johnson, was vice-president; Phyllis Jones, secretary; and Kay Ann Smith, treasurer.

HONOR SOCIETY

On March 23, 1927, a group of outstanding students at Fairmount High School received a charter officially designating them as chapter 589 of the National Honor Society.

To be chosen a member of the National Honor Society is the highest honor that can come to a student of Fairmount High School. Since the creation of the local chapter, there has been a steady succession of students who have had the distinction of belonging to this chapter.

Leadership, character, service and scholarship are the four fields in which school boys and girls must excel to achieve membership in the National Honor Society. Then each candidate must be voted upon by the faculty.

The society chose the following officers for the year 1951-52 early in the fall: president, Shirley Hill; vice-president, Joyce Stitt; secretary, Billie Jo Wallace; treasurer, Richard Curless.

THESPIANS

Nine years ago on March 13, 1943, chapter 682 designated a group of Fairmount dramatic students as a part of the National Thespian Society. Mrs. Adeline Nall Brookshire was the sponsor then and still remains their capable advisor. Always keeping in mind the truth of Shakespeare's lofty words, "Act well your part, for therein all the honor lies," these aspiring dramatic performers are always ready to assume the roles which will serve best their school. Presenting in dramatic art the humor and seriousness of living, the Thespians reach into the heart of every student. Officers for the year 1951-52 were Larry Smith, president; vice-president, Larry Hughes; secretary, Carolyn Worl;

QUILL AND SCROLL

The local chapter of Quill and Scroll was organized in November of 1945 under the direction of Miss Roberta Wills. This is the chapter's seventh year at Fairmount.

Members are chosen from the Journalism department each year. It is an honorary society, consisting of no officers. Each member must be of junior standing, rank in the upper third part of his class, and must have done some type of superior journalistic work. Furthermore, he must be approved by the journalism advisor, the principal, and the executive secretary of the national organization. The membership was conferred upon this group in February when they received pins and membership cards as tokens of their achievements.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA

Future Homemakers of America was first organized in Fairmount High School in October, 1948. Joan Lea McTurnan, present homemaking teacher, was the advisor.

Officers this year were: president, Billie Jo Wallace; vice-president, Margaret Webster; secretary, Carol Sue Dye; corresponding secretary, Mary Lynn Beck; treasurer, Kay Ann Smith; historian, Sara Powell; parliamentarian, Lola Small; recreation leader, Janet Hollenbeck; reporter, Marlene Earnest; Polly Pigtail leaders, Wanda Carr, Margaret Webster, and Valarie Pace. The year's chapter mother was Mrs. Paul Dye.

Each year the girls carry out activities to promote the purposes of the Future Homemakers of America. The first main event this year was their booth at the Fall Festival. Courtesy Week, which is enjoyed by all, is also sponsored by this active group. Teas were given for all members of the student body during this week with a receiving line made up of outstanding students. The annual Valentine Soc Hop proved a great success with Larry Smith and Lola Small crowned as king and queen of this gala affair. For the past two years the F. H. A. girls have taken a trip to Chicago each spring. Plans were rapidly forming for their 1952 excursion as the annual went to press.

POLLY PIGTAILS

A Polly Pigtail group has been organized in Fairmount High School for the past three years. Membership is open only to seventh and eighth grade girls who are interested in homemaking activities as well as improving their own personalities. These girls are under the direct supervision of the Future Homemakers of America who appointed Margaret Webster and Wanda Carr to serve as Polly Pigtail leaders this year. These leaders, along with Miss Joan McTurnan, directed the various projects of the year. In this way the younger girls were introduced to the various aspects of homemaking and the home economics department of the school.

For officers during the 1951-52 school term the girls chose for their president, Roberta Spence; vice-president, Patty Meyers; for secretary, Bonnie

Y-TEENS

Y-Teens is a service group of senior high school girls. With Mrs. Jerry Taylor as sponsor, the girls performed many and varied deeds of service throughout the school year. During the Fall Festival they sold fudge and balloons to fill their own coffers. Some of this money they spent at Christmas time to decorate the hallways, and their Christmas tree and realistic Santa Claus added a lot of spirit to this festive season. Also in the spirit of Christmas they made up boxes of chocolate candy bars which they sent to children overseas.

Chief among their spring projects were a play night and a food sale carried out during April and May. The group held two parties during the year; one was a wiener roast, the other a chili supper.

Officers elected for the year 1951-52 were president, Bobbie Boze; vice-president, Shirley Kesler; secretary, Ellen Miller; treasurer, Mary Lou Jarvis; song leader, Shirley Thompson.

Third row: Dolores Davis, Darelyn Ice, Linda Kerschner, Judy Kesler, Shirley Kesler, Bobbie Boze, Mary Jarvis, Ellen Miller, Mary Lou Clem, Judy Hollenbeck, Eddine Lawson.

Fourth row: Norma Sullivan, Susan Callahan, Marlene Yale, Nancy Bush, Melba Miller, Sue Gaither, Judy Kerschner, Marilyn Jones, Alice Keller.

THE HIGH SCHOOL CHORUS

The High School Chorus, under the direction of Paull McCoy, started the year with twenty members meeting just three days a week. By adjusting the schedule at mid-term, nine seniors joined the group, which thereafter met every school day. At first they began as a training class but ended the year as an accomplished chorus with an outstanding repertoire.

The organization sang for several school affairs and appeared on a number of community programs, the most notable perhaps being the World Day of Prayer at the Wesleyan Church in February. One formal concert was given in April, and the chorus also took part in the Spring Fine Arts Festival.

Nine members of the chorus were chosen on a competitive basis to sing in the 325 voice chorus at Purdue for the City Schools Conference. The Fairmount participants in this wonderful program were Eddine Lawson, Lola Small, Annette Davidson, Bobbie Boze, Don Cromer, Phil Compton, Charles Peach, Sarah Pack, and Sara Lea Hayes. Judy Kesler was to go, but was ill. Too, a girls' trio composed of Lola Small, Bobbie Boze, and Phyllis Shaver sang for the concert and Spring Festival. All 29 members enjoyed a party at Mr. McCoy's house in Marion in the spring.

Officers for the chorus were president, Charles Peach; vice-president, Eddine Lawson; secretary-treasurer, Lola Small; accompanist, Sara Lea Hayes.

Second row: Bill Wilson, Lola Small, Eddine Lawson, Phyllis Dailey, Nancy O'Brien, Bobbie Boze, Valarie Pace, Sara Hayes, Mr. McCoy, sponsor.

Third row: Jean Brown, Phyllis Shaver, Janice Stroup, Judy Kesler, Carol Smithson, Annette Davidson, Sarah Pack, Carolyn Worl, Joyce Stitt.

PROJECTIONISTS

The projectionists are a group of boys who run the movie projector for the showing of classroom films. This club was reorganized this year under the supervision of Mr. Gerald Sullivan. The school now has one moving picture projector and two film strip and slide projectors, one being presented this year to the school by the P. T. A. There are at least two boys in study hall every period who know how to operate the movie projector. These boys learned how to operate the projector expertly and efficiently during the activity period.

Visual aids are becoming more and more an accepted and favored method of classroom procedure. With the projectionists organization and the schools new equipment (thanks to the P. T. A.) Fairmount High is keeping abreast of the times. As a result, more teachers are using films and film strips in their classes than ever before.

Second row: Bob Blair, Arthur Baker, Bob Sheets, Joe Comer, Phil Jones, Jerry Moon.

FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA

The Future Farmers of America, better known as F. F. A., was organized nationally in 1928 and was organized in F. H. S. in 1935 by Mr. Arbuckle, who came the same year. During the past seven years, under the direction of Mr. Hugh Caughell, our chapter has prospered and has won many contests and other numerous awards.

Activities during the past year were varied and many. Jim Fisher and Joe Kelsay traveled to Kansas City in October to attend the National F. F. A. convention. Jim Fisher played in the band and Joe Kelsay took part in the singing chorus. Charles Reynolds won the chapter Pest Contest and captured first place in the county early in the fall. Then in February, Joe Kelsay represented Fairmount in the district speech contest at Decatur and placed second, while Bob Plue entered the essay contest and placed fourth. Leonard Kimes was elected district 6 director, and Joe Kelsay was elected secretary of the district.

The group had approximately 40 members during 1951-52. Officers were: president, Joe Kelsay; vice-president, John Powers; secretary, John Stinger; treasurer, Richard Curless; reporter, Charlie Reynolds; and door keeper, Charles Benninghoff.

Made up of boys and girls who like to argue and who enjoy all types of speech activities, the Debate Club really offers the students of F. H. S. an opportunity to express their opinions. Under the direction of Mrs. Adeline Brookshire, the debaters were an industrious bunch this year, holding debates with Speedway, Dunkirk, Elwood, Selma and Peru.

As is their custom each year they journeyed to Purdue in late November for the annual Purdue Debate Conference and Legislature Assembly. Shirley Hill was a senator while Sue Hill and Joe Kelsay served as representatives. Fred Parrill went as Shirley's alternate, and Janet Blair acted as an alternate for the two representatives. Arthur Baker and Jim Dunn attended as interested observers.

For the affirmative Sue Hill and Fred Parrill teamed together. Janet Blair and Shirley Hill combined as negative colleagues during the regular season.

Officers of the Debate Club for 1951-52 were Shirley Hill, president; Joe Kelsay, vice-president; secretary, Sue Hill.

Standing: Mrs. Adeline Brookshire, Buddy Baker, Dorothy Nelson, David Blair, Shirley Hill, Jim Dunn, Billie Jo Wallace, Bob Plue.

Sitting: Joe Kelsay, Janet Blair, Fred Parrill, Sue Hill.

NATIONAL FORENSIC LEAGUE

The National Forensic League holds a position of prestige in the Fairmount High School Speech Department. Membership in this organization is select and based upon points earned in participation in all different phases of dramatics, speech, oratory, and debate. Under the direction of Mrs. Adeline Brookshire, the group took part in two significant speech meets, both occurring in the same week in March.

On the eleventh two of these people took part in the Model U. N. Assembly, which was held on the campus of Anderson College. Fairmount was greatly honored at this time to have Shirley Hill invited to serve as parliamentarian for the Assembly. Billie Jo Wallace and Fred Parrill went as representatives from Australia; Sue Hill, Larry Smith, Dorothy Nelson represented Greece; and

Janet Blair and Lola Small acted as delegates from Peru.

Two days later practically the same ten students traveled to Peru for the Fifth District Contest of the National Forensic League. Fred Parrill and Janet Blair both ranked third in Discussion and Oratorical Declamation respectively. All the students who made this trip felt it was most worthwhile and resolved that next year would see harder work and greater accomplishments from the Fairmount members of the N. F. L.

JUNIOR DEBATE CLUB

In past years the junior debaters were fostered by older high school students in Mrs. Brookshire's forensic group. But last fall Mrs. Atkinson assumed sponsorship of the Junior Debate Club, which met every other Friday with an average attendance of fifteen seventh and eighth graders.

Round table discussion with all the members participating was a frequent meeting procedure. Several actual debates were presented by teams from the club. The aim of these discussions and debates was to give the young students an idea of what debate is and what some of the techniques of debating are.

Then, too, the organization gave the boys and girls an opportunity to think on their feet and a chance to express their thoughts.

The officers for the year were elected as follows: president, Martin Lee Davis; vice-president, Judy Kerschner; secretary, Jere Wysong; treasurer, Jim Smithson; and program chairman, Tom Wood.

Second row: Billy Main, Bert Bush, Carolyn Miller, Marvin Chambers, Jack Ashba, Mrs. Atkinson.

Third row: Jere Wysong, Judy Kerschner, Jim Smithson.

CONCERT BAND

The Fairmount High School Band, under the direction of Paull McCoy, had quite a successful season. Though small, the band of 19 members was well balanced and of excellent quality because of the good individual musicianship. This lack of members kept them from marching or playing at basketball games, but they were quite active in other respects. Playing between acts for several plays, giving a formal concert in March, lending to the success of several pep sessions, participating in the Fine Arts Festival, and giving their support to a number of community activities are all indicative of the band's importance. Then at Commencement time their performance was enhanced by the addition of a large group from the Cadet Band.

A trip to Elkhart to tour the music instrument factories and to be guests of the Elkhart High School Band proved beneficial and great fun. Also, the band members enjoyed a very nice party at the home of Mr. McCoy in Marion.

Two members of the band entered the Music Contest at Kokomo, where Jim Fisher rated Good on cornet and Tom Wood received Superior on piano.

Band officers for the year were: president, Jim Fisher; vice-president, John Powers; librarian, Fred Parrill; secretary-treasurer, Joyce Stitt.

Back row: Shirley Thompson, Jane Buffington, Louise Williams, Mr. McCoy, instructor; Wendell Fisher, Phyllis Whiteman, Francis Stephens, Phil Jones, Dave Alfred, Irwin Polk.

THE CADET BAND

The Cadet Band, organized the first few weeks of school, was for the specific purpose of starting beginners on band instruments.

The group, under the direction of Paull McCoy, were by the end of the year able to join the High School Concert Band as full members in time for Commencement. The Cadet Band, with this year's beginners from the North and West Ward, played a concert on their own, as part of the Spring Fine Arts Festival, and contributed substantially to its success. Since every single member of the group became reasonably proficient on his instrument, the year's progress was considered quite successful.

The officers for the Cadet Band were as follows:

president, Richard Payne; vice-president, Fred Hayes; librarian, Bert Bush; secretary-treasurer, Dixie Davis.

THE MUSIC CLUBS

At the beginning of the year, a single Music Club was envisioned as an organization for the purpose of providing its members with ample opportunity to enjoy all kinds of music. Not only was singing to be enjoyed, but recorded music of all kinds was to be made available for the pleasure of the members. In addition to this, it was hoped it would be possible for the members to "fool around" with various instruments, not only for the pure fun of it, but also to gain a general knowledge of them.

When it became known that a club of this kind was to be formed, so many people decided to join, it became necessary to form two Music Clubs. These two clubs became the Junior High School Music Club and the Senior High School Music Club. A program committee was set up in each organization. During October and November, Music-In-General was emphasized. During December and January the field of Folk Music of all lands received the major attention. During the months of February and March, modern music, both classical and popular received attention. Modern musical organizations were discussed and listened to, dance bands as well as symphony orchestras. During the month of April, the emphasis was on instruments. Various instruments were brought to the meetings and the members were given a chance to play them. Discussions were then entered into concerning their uses, their origins, and a little about the techniques of playing them. Of course, throughout the entire program for the year, singing was the chief form of participation. The program for the entire year was the same for both clubs.

It was felt the clubs were a success from the standpoint of both enjoyment and learning. Paull McCoy was sponsor for both clubs.

The officers for each club follows:

Senior Music Club: president, John Powers; secretary, Jeanette Ashba; treasurer, Pat McDermitt.

JUNIOR HONOR ASSOCIATION

This year, with the revamping of the activities periods, a new organization was created for junior high school boys. The group was to parallel the Hi-Y Club for senior high boys in ideals and projects.

The aim of their association is to promote high standards of honor among the younger boys. With the leadership of both Mr. Monahan and Mr. Weaver, the boys discussed methods for attaining high ideals and good citizenship for all the fellows in the school. Some practical matters of conduct were talked over and settled also.

Officers for the club were selected as follows: president, Larry Wood; vice-president, Jerry Blake; secretary and treasurer, Gordon Engle; reporter, Steven Burton; watch dog, Philip Burton.

HI-Y

After having had continuous organization in Fairmount High School for twenty-two years, the Hi-Y was dropped as a school activity in 1947. The need for such an organization, however, was ever present. And so in the fall of 1951 under the guidance of Lewis Berg the Hi-Y was reinstated.

Nationally the Hi-Y was first started in Chapman, Kansas, in 1889. The first F. H. S. group was formed in the fall of 1925. A constitution was prepared for the local club in 1931 by James De Weerd. This was amended in 1944.

The purpose of the club is to maintain and extend through the school and community high standards of Christian character, clean speech, clean sports, clean scholarship, and clean living.

On January, 1952, a delegation of Marion Hi-Y boys performed an installation service for the officers and the club members at the Fairmount Wesleyan Church. The ritual was quite impressive with a number of parents and faculty members present. Now that the group is active again it would seem they are carrying out their important function in the school quite successfully.

The officers are president, Hilton Johnson; vice-president, Bill Wilson; secretary, Jim Ellingwood; and treasurer, Bill Payne.

CAFETERIA HELP

Most appetizing meals were served in the high school cafeteria this year by Anna Downing and Laura Dunn and their assistants, who fixed the tables for the grade children and the high school teachers while Anna and Laura prepared the food. Special dishes on holidays were appreciated by the students. Mrs. Downing was also responsible for satisfying the hungry basketball boys after each game.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

During the spring of 1951 a group of girls under the direction of Mrs. Annalee Cloud, physical education instructor for girls, organized a local G. A. A. group, G. A. A. meaning Girls' Athletic Association. Their object was to develop good sportsmanship, health, and friendship. A girl can not be initiated into the group until she has earned a specified number of points. In January of this year sixteen girls had met the qualifications and were initiated in a special candle lighting ceremony before the student body. The present membership of thirty-eight indicates that the G. A. A. girls not only keep busy but accomplish something as well. Judy Kesler received the first G. A. A. award presented here for acquiring 150 points.

Officers elected this year were the same as they were last year with one exception. Margaret Webster was the new secretary. Other officers were president, Kay Ann Smith; vice-president, Wanda Carr; treasurer, Lola Small.

The formation of a girls' basketball team was one of the last achievements for the year.

BOOSTER CLUB

One of the big factors in maintaining a good school spirit and an attitude of fair play throughout the basketball season was the work of the Booster Club. And work it really was. No one would deny that the girls had fun cheering the boys on to victory, but keeping a routine of yells, learning new tricks, providing transportation, keeping their togs clean, attending all the games and practice sessions required effort and willingness to get along with people. Participation in the Booster Club is a valuable experience in human relations.

The brunt of the responsibility for making the 1951-52 season so successful lay primarily with the officers, Sue Smith, president; Sue Hill, vice-president; and secretary-treasurer, Carolyn Sullivan. The group bought gold, turtle-neck sweaters to wear at all games. Later they purchased gold caps to compliment their dress. They really looked good at the sectional tourney.

Some of their main activities were a dance after one basketball game, a banquet for the basketball boys on March 17, and an all-county dance termed the Basketball Bounce on March 21. Probably the group could never have accomplished what they did had they not had the untiring leadership of their sponsor, Mrs. Annalee Cloud.

Second row: Roberta Gaither, Marlene Dauenhauer, Dale Richards, Shirley Bright, Uva Hollenbeck, Marlene Earnest, Marilyn Jones, Louise Wright.

DANCE CLUB

For three years now, Fairmount High has had an organized Dance Club. The purposes of such a club are chiefly to help students to acquire social ease and poise, to teach students the basic ballroom steps, to establish a wholesome and respectful attitude between boys and girls, and to provide a pleasant recreational activity.

Mrs. Annalee Cloud, club sponsor, has given the group much help and encouragement. As a result there were ninety-seven members who enthusiastically participated in the club meetings. Through their own efforts and contributions, a juke box was purchased along with an adequate library of new and used records. Not only did the juke box serve the club but it also provided music for noon-hour dancing and school dances such as the F. H. A. Soc Hop. A special corner was provided in the gym for housing the machine since all dancing was done in that place.

Officers who served for the year 1951-52 were, president, Lawrence Kinch; vice-president, Bill Wilson; and secretary-treasurer, Linda Roth.

PRAYER BAND

The Prayer Band has been a school organization since 1945. They met every Wednesday noon in the auditorium during the past year with the faculty advisor, Mr. Raymond Elliott. During the meetings they talked and meditated upon the Bible, which was always read and discussed. At different meetings during the year local ministers met with the group.

The Prayer Band was organized in 1940 under the inspiration of Betty Todd Love and Maxine Spence King. Mrs. Gilbreath became its faculty advisor in 1945 and held the position until 1949, when Mr. Elliott took over the responsibility.

STUDENT LIBRARIANS

Many are the duties of a student librarian. The students check out books and magazines. They pass out a continuous stream of information. They help students to locate material and teach students how they can locate material by themselves. They card and shelve books, dust and keep books in order, collect fines, prepare books for circulation. Along with all these assigned jobs, this year they met every two weeks to study a manual entitled, "How to Use the Library." Although these library assistants are kept busy with questions and routine duties, they are rewarded with such advantages as having ready access to library materials, the joy of serving boys and girls by aiding them in their preparation of lessons and by furnishing them with good reading material for their pastime pleasures, and the earning of one-half credit in English each semester.

Five members of the staff made a trip to Terre Haute in October, attending the Indiana High School Librarians Association meeting, which was held on the Indiana State Teachers' College campus. Wilma Huston, Martha Dunning, Gardenia Latta, Marlene Dauenhauer, and Judy Kerschner, along with Mr. Wood, were the ones who enjoyed this journey.

Other assistant librarians were Shirley Kesler, Louise Bruner, Mary Agnes Partridge, Patricia McDermitt, Phyllis Jones, Janet Hoke, Arthur Baker, and Dawana Ice. Mary Agnes took up her work with the second semester to help Marlene Dauenhauer, who took driver's training. Janet Hoke replaced Mary Ellen Baker, who changed her schedule. All the student librarians conscientiously performed their tasks and enjoyed doing them.

OFFICE STAFF

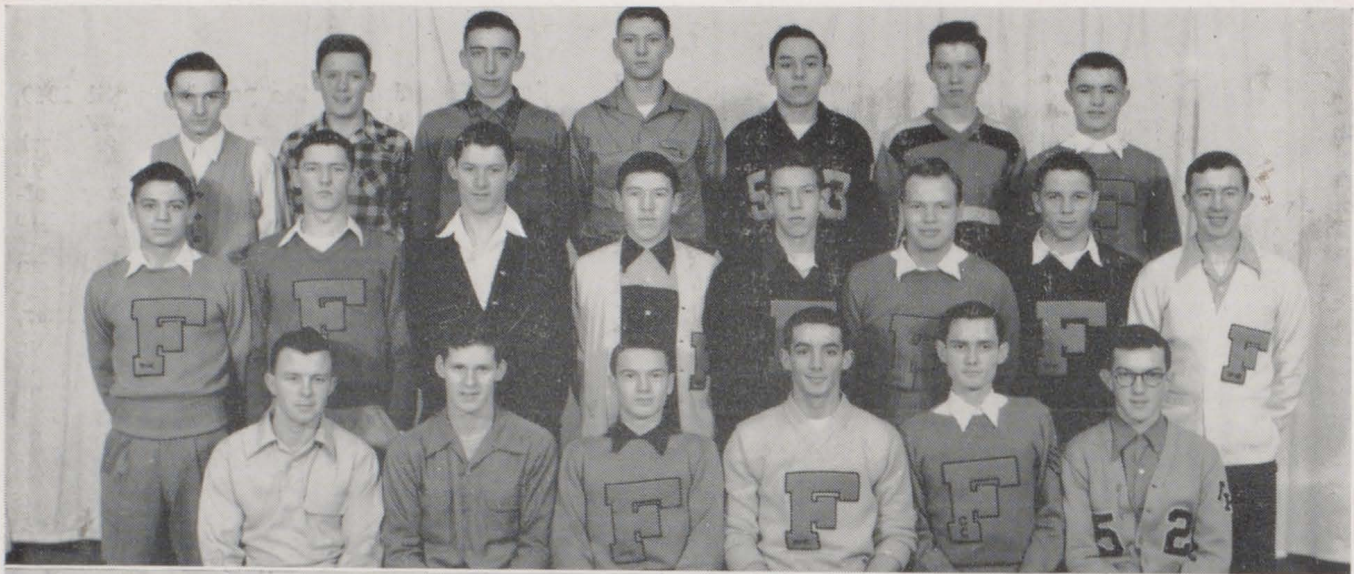

One of the smallest but most important organizations in the school is Mr. DuBois' office staff. Their duties are very much like those of general office workers. They type letters, greet school visitors, fill out absence slips, keep records of absentees, take announcements to classes, along with various routine duties.

To greet the tardy students first period was Martha Leckron Harvey. For the remainder of the day the office was tended by Norma Bailey, second period; Lawrence Kinch, third period; Billie Jo Wallace, fourth period; Patricia McDermitt, fifth period; and Janet Blair, sixth period.

These students displayed courteous help to everyone at F. H. S. during the year.

THE "F" CLUB

The F-Club of Fairmount High School is composed of lettermen from cross country, track, baseball, and basketball teams. To maintain membership each boy is required to participate in the sport he lettered in or lose the right to attend meetings. This was the sixth year of organization for letter athletes.

Their chief project, started in the year 1950-51 and continued this year, is to buy a new trophy case to supplement our now crowded one in the study hall. The money for this purchase is being raised by payment of weekly dues.

This year Bill Wilson was president of the F-Club, while Jim Mitchener was vice-president and Larry Smith was secretary-treasurer. Naturally Mr. Paul Weaver was the sponsor.

Back row: Douglas O'Camb, Bill Vctor, Bob Allen, Henry Prine, Jerry Lewis, Bob Dockery, Orville Meyers.

F. F. A. BASKETBALL TEAM

For the third consecutive year the Fairmount F. F. A., Chapter 62, has had a basketball team. For the past two years the team has finished up with all losses and no wins, but this year the tide turned and they finished up with a three win and three-loss record.

Not starting any games until after Christmas vacation, they defeated Anderson by 19 points on January 7. February 7, they traveled to Elwood where they suffered their worst defeat of the season, losing by seven points. Back in play again on February 11 they were defeated three points by Harrison Township. Traveling all the way to Anderson February 13, they were defeated by six points. Then they defeated Gaston 31 to 30.

Closing the season at Harrison Township, the farmer five won 42 to 40 in an overtime game. Coach Leonard Kimes thought the boys did reasonably well, since most of the boys had had some previous basketball experience.

Back row: Harlan Haisley, Phil Smith, John Powers, Marvin Smalley, Rex Buller, Gene Rayn,

INSTRUMENTAL CLUB

The Instrumental Club, an entirely new organization this year, was exclusively for members of the high school band who wished to study instruments other than the one they played. Although the club was open to all band members, it turned out to be an all-boy organization. The field of instruments was well covered and it was felt the club was very successful from the view of enjoyment as well as learning. Paull McCoy, the band leader, took the members through preliminary lessons on the various instruments. Enough was learned about each to enable the boys to play simple tunes on it.

The club met twice a week during the noon hour.

Since the group was small in size, no officers were elected, except a president; this was Jim Fisher.

In addition to learning something about the instruments proper, the general principles of construction, care, origin, repair, and use were also considered. Also the theories governing the production of tone were rather deeply gone into. The group quite often listened to and enjoyed records by great instrumental artists, showing the possibilities of their instruments.

HOBBY CLUB

Among the numerous new clubs this year we had the Hobby Club, which was organized for the junior high school boys. In their activity period they made model airplanes, did woodworking projects, and carried on various shop work. There were two sections of the club which met at different times.

The officers for the first section were president, Larry Wood; vice-president, Jerry Blake; secretary and treasurer, Max Smith. The second period officers were president, Steven Burton; vice-president, Philip Burton; secretary and treasurer, Tony Riley. These boys were under the sponsorship of Mr. Earl McAnally.

SENIOR PLAY

The seniors decided on "I Remember Mama" for their senior play, to be given April 3 and 4. The play is centered around Mama, who is a Norwegian. Her daughter, Katrin, is an author who tells the story as she writes it. The cast was as follows:

Katrin	Shirley Hill
Madeline	Martha Wilson
Dorothy	Donna Price
Mama	Billie Jo Wallace
Dagmar	Joyce Stitt
Nels	Larry Smith
Christine	Sue Hill
Papa	Hilton Johnson

"I Remember Mama" will be remembered for a long time as an outstanding play. Excellent acting and difficult staging were features of the play. The stage was divided into three sections. The first section consisted of Katrin's study; the second was made up of the family kitchen and later lost its identity as the scene of Uncle Chris' bedroom; the third section furnished several different backgrounds. Some of these were kitchen, drug store, central park, hospital, and make-up room.

Doctor	David Allred
Arne	Gardenia Latta
Jessie	Sue Smith
Uncle Chris	John Powers
Trina	Jeanette Ashba
Nurses	Phyllis Jones and Phyllis Whitman
Sigrid	Carolyn Worl
Jenny	Wilma Huston

Others not in picture are:

Mr. Hyde	Larry Hughes
Soda Jerk and Bellboy	Charles Johnson
Mr. Thorkleson	Lowell Blair
Mrs. Moorhead	Martha Dunning

The illusion was completed by curtains. Phil Compton and the senior boys constructed the curtain system.

Mr. McCoy and his band played during intermission, and Jeanette Ashba and Jean Brown sang solos.

The director, Mrs. Adeline Brookshire, was presented with a rose and orchid corsage Thursday night and a leather jewelry case Friday night by the class president, Larry Hughes.

JUNIOR PLAY

"Men Are Like Streetcars" was chosen for the junior play this year. The play was presented October 22-23 in the high school auditorium. Maudie is the main character and was double-cast. The part of Ted Felton was also double-cast.

The characters were as follows:

Maudie Mason	Jill Corn and Lola Small
Mrs. Mason	Janet Blair
Sylvia Mason	Margaret Webster
Joy Knight	Judy Kesler
Margaret, the Maid	Valarie Pace

Lyzbeth Allen	Judy Hollenbeck
Julie Day	Kay Ann Smith
Alix White	Wanda Carr
Mrs. Allen	Marlene Earnest
Mrs. Day	Carol Sue Dye
Mrs. White	Phyllis Shaver
Davy Hunt	Bill Payne
Mr. Mason	Jim Ellingwood
Jerry Stover	Fred Parrill
Ted Felton	Irwin Polk and Don Spahr
Chi Davis	Dick Grindle

SOPHOMORE PLAYS

The sophomores gave three one-act plays. "Custer's Last Sit," a comedy; "Who Killed Ann Gage?" a melodrama and "Rising Flood," a drama. They were given February 8. The casts for the different plays were as follows:

"Custers Last Sit"

Custer	Bob Hayes
Jean	Lynn Beck
Mrs. Winslow	Phyllis Scott
Mr. Winslow	Marvin Smalley
Pam	Alice Keller
Peggy	Judy Sicks
Policeman	Phil Smith

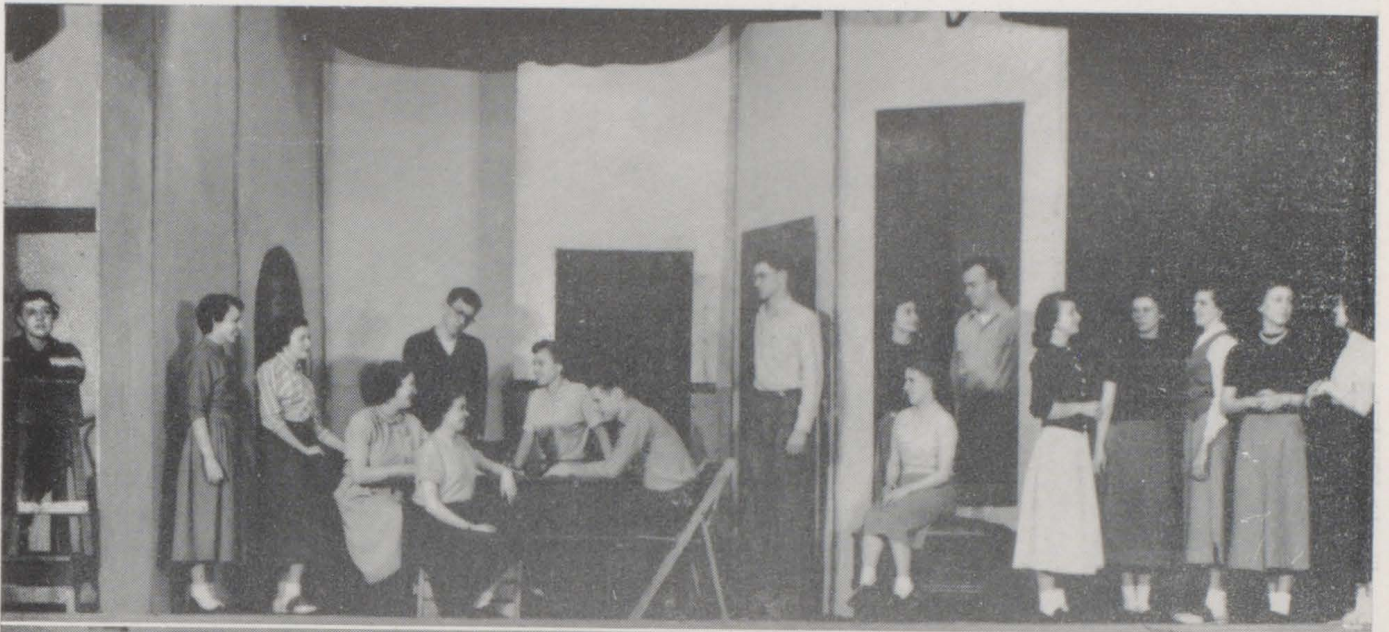

"Rising Flood"

Grandma Darris	Eddine Lawson
----------------------	---------------

Mrs. Helen Lester	Marlene Dauenhauer
Carlton Lester	Arthur Baker
Barbara Lester	Shirley Bright
George Cummings	Rex Buller
Bill Hooker	Frank Jarvis

"Who Killed Ann Gage?"

Ann Gage	Linda Roth

Sharon	Diana Dale
Bronson Clark	John Leming
Sandy	Bob Plue
Raul	Dwight Crouch
Detective	Jim Draper
Anita	Loretta Price

1951 PROM-BANQUET

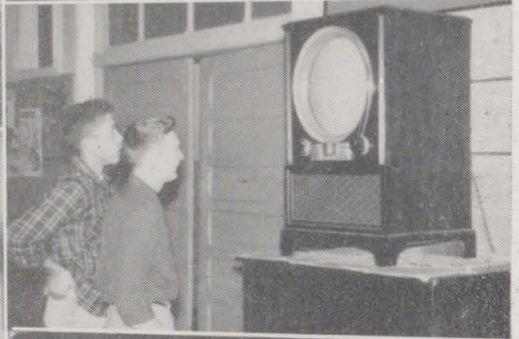

An evening in Paris was the theme for the annual banquet and dance given by the juniors in honor of the seniors of '51. With an elaborate setting of a Paris street complete with a park and traditional shops, the seniors and juniors were served supper by the sophomore waiters and waitresses. The meal was delicious and the atmosphere delightfully exotic.

Short speeches were given by David Nall, president of the senior class, and Larry Smith, vice-president of the junior class. Jeanette Ashba sang a solo and John Stinger offered prayer. Other entertainment was given by Zina Glad's dance students. After a short intermission a dance was held with Bob Winslow's trio providing the music until midnight.

This year a similar affair was being planned by the juniors in honor of the '52 graduates. The scene was a spring garden with all its beautiful flowers. Bill Payne, junior class president, gave the welcome with Larry Hughes, senior class president, responding. The sophomores served punch, cookies, candy, and cake. The Prom started at 9:00 p. m. and lasted until 12 midnight.

STARS ★

Pictured above are the two student managers, Larry Smith and Bob Hayes, with Coach Paul Weaver in typical practice-time attire. Larry was the senior manager and became the third recipient in the history of our school of a manager sweater. This was his second year on the job. Bob served as first lieutenant to Larry, spending many long hours in the laundry. He'll be a manager again next year.

NOTES ON THE 1951-52 FIRST TEAM PLAYERS

Charles Johnson, 5' 9", Senior Guard

The team's playmaker who generally got the toughest defensive assignments, Charlie was best when the opposition was the roughest. His place will be hard to fill. Charlie was the only letter man on the team. Final honors came to him when he received the Don Rhoads Trophy.

John Templeton, 6' 1", Senior Center

Big "Tad" came into his own at sectional time. His outstanding play in the tourney greatly aided our team in two victories and the near upset of Marion in the finals.

Hilton Johnson, 6' 1", Senior Center

Hilton, a starter in over half of our games, moved to the varsity squad from Shortridge of Indianapolis. Good on rebounds, strong on the board, Hilton was a hard worker.

Dewayne Payne, 5' 10½", Junior Forward

"Wink" was the Quaker's leading scorer, averaging 11.2 points. "Winks" favorite shot was a jump shot around the free throw area. Great things are expected from him next year.

Bernie Lehman, 5' 8", Junior Guard

Bernie kept the opponents defense pulled out with fine long shooting. Bernie has one big year left.

Jim Mitchener, 6' 1", Sophomore Forward

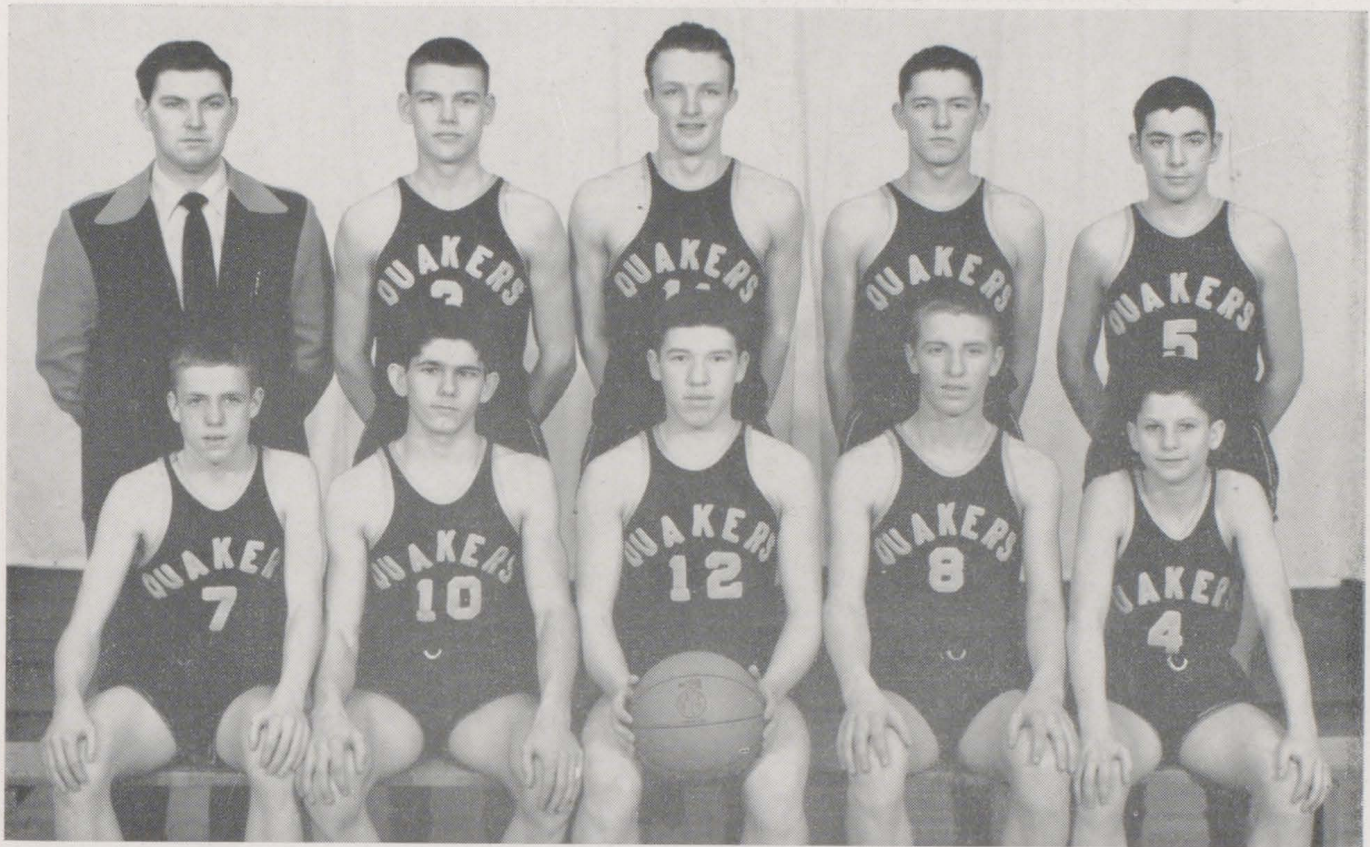

Jim kept the opposition's nerves on edge with his aggressive play and great shooting. Jim was especially dangerous under the basket on tip ins; on the defensive boards he was outstanding. Jim has two more years.

Gordon Hoheimer, 5' 8½", Junior Guard

An understudy at guard this year, Gordon should fill the graduation loss of C. Johnson.

Jim Ellingwood, 6' 0", Junior Forward

Having completed his first season on the squad, Jim with a big summer's growth could be our center next year. Jim improved greatly during the past months of play.

THE SECOND TEAM

Possessing an enviable record of fourteen victories against only two losses, the Little Quakers had a highly successful season. Their experience should prove unusually valuable as the boys move up to the first team next fall.

JUNIOR HIGH BASKETBALL TEAM

Second row: David Blair, Jimmy Cromer, Robert Blair, Earl Cruca, George Miller, John Miller.

1951 BASEBALL TEAM

Powerful hitting, excellent pitching, and sparkling fielding accounted for the Fairmount Quaker's second consecutive county conference championship. Doing equally well on the road as they did at home, they also wound up for the second year without a single loss, playing a total of ten games.

Dewayne Payne was the big gun for the Quakers. Batting fourth, he cleaned the bases many times with tremendously long hits. On the mound, Gordon Hoheimer had beautiful control, holding the opposition to a minimum of hits and runs. Sophomore Jim Mitchener, likewise a fine pitcher, developed a powerful bat and was responsible for a generous assortment of base hits. First base chore was handled by Orville Meyers; second base was held down by Bill Wilson; shortstop fell to either Jim Mitchener or Gordon Hoheimer; third baseman was Henry Prine; the catcher, Dewayne Payne. Outfielders were Don Cromer, center field; Charles Johnson, left field; and Charles Peach, right field. Reserves were Charles Reynolds, Jim Reynolds, Don Garner, and Lee Persinger.

Since Wilson and Johnson were the only seniors, the Quaker baseball team should be able to realize another great season next fall.

TRACK TEAM

Fairmount High School had an impressive track team last spring. The Quakers racked up five wins against only one defeat. They were able to claim their first victory in the Converse Relays, copping the Mile Relay and the Shuttle Hurdle Relay races.

Two outstanding boys who participated last spring were John Mitchener, who went to the state meet in the shot put, and Pete Beck, who reached the regional in the low hurdles.

Other point-makers were Henry Prine and Charles Johnson in the 440; Bud Thurston, "Wink" Payne, and Doug O'Camb in the 100-yard dash; Bill Wilson in the pole vault and broad jump; Dick Grindle and Lawrence Kinch in the mile.

Practice had just begun for the 1952 season as the annual went to press.

CROSS COUNTRY

Fairmount's harriers, like the rest of Fairmount's athletic teams, wound up their fall season with a fine record.

In regular season contests McAnally's boys won four and lost three races, defeating Jefferson twice, Royerton and Alexandria. Winning second in the county meet held at Marion was a feather in their caps, for they defeated Mississinewa and were second only to Marion High School. But their greatest achievement of the year was gaining fifth place in the sectional meet staged at Anderson, where they competed with fifteen teams, mostly representing much larger schools.

This was by far the best cross-country team Fairmount High has ever produced, and Coach Earl McAnally deserves a lot of credit for his work and long hours with the boys.

Since they will be losing only two lettermen through graduation, Lawrence Kinch and Francis Stephens, the Fairmount harriers should be better than ever next fall.
